Eliminate guesswork from systems integration

PROTEPO (Prō'-tē-pō) is a systems-integration consulting company founded by former webMethods and SAP software engineers. From technical implementations to enterprise-wide transformations, the pillars of our solutions are:

- SAP NetWeaver & Business Connector
- webMethods Integration Suite
- Java open source systems

Our focused expertise and business-value-driven approach differentiate us from our competitors. We strive to become your trusted adviser, your business systems-integration think tank.

PROTEPO offers you comprehensive consulting services—ranging from enterprise architecture to systems-integration strategy development, from project management and implementation to continued optimization of your live systems.

Get More from SAP Investments

In an era of increased economic pressures, organizations look for creative ways to make the most of their SAP investments. You have spent millions on your infrastructure software. We can make it work harder for you.

A few of the techniques we use to maximize your ROI are strategies for adopting open-source technology, BPM and process automation, aligning IT and business, and identifying system capabilities that are underused.

Our proposals show the optimizations technology makes possible. We bring speed, efficiency, and innovation to your business. Our services are an asset that can increase your revenue, profits, and give you a competitive edge in the marketplace.

“When our core group of consultants meets with you, we bring more than 50 years of combined SAP and webMethods experience into the room.”

—Vasilis Katsoulis
PROTEPO Founder & CTO

We embrace proven technologies and extend them to meet your company goals. PROTEPO has the work ethic and intellectual capital to deliver integrated systems in a consistent, reliable, and cost-effective way. You will clearly see the business benefits that transpire.

Our Advantages

- Preferred webMethods support because of our unique and long-lasting partnership with that vendor.
- Continued relationship with SAP, which selected PROTEPO as the only company in the United States to beta-test the Business Connector 4.8.
- Reduced operating costs and improved business processes. Wherever you are positioned in the SAP lifecycle, you will benefit from PROTEPO solutions built with the best-of-breed components.

“PROTEPO has proven itself to be a reliable and consistent company. We value their SAP and integration expertise which were deciding factors in partnering with them.”
